

Deseronto will lose ground

By a recorded vote of five to three, Deseronto council moved on Monday night to sell the Deseronto Lions Club "a certain parcel of land, 66 feet by 66 feet, the north-east corner of the property known as the Town Park for the sum of one dollar for use to build a medical centre. The Lions Club must guarantee that they will not sell the property to a third party and that the property will revert to the Town if the Lions Club should cease to be incorporated". Thus read the motion, moved by Councillor Mitchell and seconded by Councillor Vick, who in a previous vote had voted against having the Centre in the Park. In the recorded vote which followed, (mayors of municipalities are allowed to vote in the case of a recorded vote), the yeas and nays are as follows:

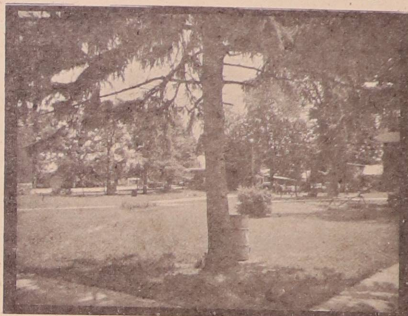

PRO: Sharpe, Lyons, Mitchell, Vick, Reynolds
CONTRA: McVicker, Dickinson, Gardiner

Following the motion, Councillor McVicker stated that in his opinion it was a mistake, as he felt sure that eventually the rest of the Park would be used for necessary parking space. He suggested that a more agreeable alternative would be that the town purchase a lot elsewhere in town, and donate that lot to the Lions Club for the Centre.

The Ontario Municipal Board, consulted earlier, has given the tentative green light to the project, as long as certain steps are taken. First, since the lot is zoned residential, a re-zoning by-law must be passed, following which, copies of the by-law must be circulated to all property owners within 400 feet of the site. Consent must also be obtained from the County Land Division Committee. It is likely, that even at this stage, attempts will be made by citizens in opposition to the plan, to stall the project on this site.

Ratepayers Invite Council

A letter was read from the newly revived Ratepayers Association inviting the Mayor, Reeve, Councillors and Clerk to attend any or all meetings.

Sold by the Town to the Deseronto Lions for $1, the north-east corner of the Town Park (sixty-six feet square) is about to become a building site for a new medical centre.

Streets

Committee chairman, Jim McVicker, told council of plans to improve conditions of streets by an application which would both kill weeds at roadsides and lay the dust. He further suggested that in order to easily maintain the newly surfaced streets, certain streets only should be designated for truck routes. Three motions which follow, were put by McVicker, and carried.

1. That the committee be authorized to trade in the hay mower for a rotary mower (brush hog) at an extra cost of $95.
2. That P. Anderson of Greer Galloway & Associates be requested to visit the Mill Street south location and give the streets committee advice on how to proceed on necessary re-construction and/or repairs in that location.

3. That the County Engineer be requested to give advice on necessary repairs at the corner of Fourth and Main Streets.

Clean-Up Follow-Up

Councillor Vick, chairman of by-laws, reported that letters had been sent out to all property owners in town who had not as yet complied with the town's requests to clean up or else. The letter stated that July 8th would be the final deadline, before action was taken.

Constable leaves

With the acceptance of the resignation of police constable William Luck, council moved to advertise for a new constable at the salary of $6,000 per annum, applicant to have experience and be over 25 years of age, applications to be received until July 12th.

Messrs. Douglas and Bruce Hisey and Charles Colby of the firm of Hisey and Barrington, consulting engineers, spoke to Council reviewing problems encountered in sewer construction.

Jamboree is success in spite of rain

SPIRITS NOT DAMPENED AT JAMBOREE

Even though the weather was not kind to the Lions Club Jamboree held in Deseronto last week-end, hard-working Lions nevertheless managed to make a significant financial success from the event.

Beginning Thursday evening at 7 p.m. with games in the Town Park, the "fun, frolic, and merriment" lasted for a brief forty-five minutes, until the deluge came. Even within that short time a large crowd had gathered to participate in various games of chance and skill.

Friday evening was a complete loss because of still more rain.

Saturday, bright and sunny, drew a large crowd to the Park where the fun began about one p.m. Beginning about three, and finishing about eleven, Lions cooked and served about five hundred servings of barbecued chicken!

The draw, held just at eleven, was won by Ken Klinck of Napanee (a television set). Second prize, a dollar dolly, was won by Bobby Roebuck of Deseronto, while Beryl Herman formerly of Deseronto won a clock radio.

Special invitation

Deseronto baseball players, from the Midget, Juvenile and Intermediate teams have been invited by the Cincinnati Reds to attend their try-out camp in Peterborough, starting at 9 a.m. Sunday, July 9th. Players should contact Del Wannamaker to arrange for transportation.

ECLIPSE NEXT MONDAY

A partial eclipse of the sun will occur over central Ontario July 10 about 3:20 p.m.

The phenomenon is a novelty that draws many spectators, but the Canadian Association of Optometrists warns that direct viewing of the eclipse could cause permanent eye damage.

Association president Dr.

R. W. Macpherson warned against looking directly at the sun with binoculars, telescopes, opera glasses, smoked glass or sun glasses.

next week

There will be no edition of the Scanner next week (July 12), as staff will be on holiday. We will be open for business again on Monday, July 17, and will publish, as usual, on Wednesday, July 19th.

AUDITORS' REPORT

TO THE SUPPORTERS OF
THE HASTINGS COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

We have examined the Revenue Fund and Capital Fund Balance Sheets of The Hastings County Board of Education as at December 31, 1971 and the Revenue Fund Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Statement of Source and Application of Capital Funds for the year then ended. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Board as at December 31, 1971 and the results of its operations and the source and application of its capital funds for the year then ended, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted for Ontario School Boards applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Winners of the draw at Lyons Market last week-end were George Caron (1st prize - cutlery set), Frank Breault (2nd prize - ham), Sylvia Baldwin (3rd prize - ham).

Mrs. Beryl Herman spent the week-end in Napanee with her daughter, Mrs. Russell Brant and Mr. Brant.

Mrs. Marie Watson of Napanee, visited her sisters Mrs. Charles Griffiths and Mrs. Blake Moore on the week-end, before leaving for a month in Calgary.

Mrs. James Hines, Mill Street, Deseronto returned home after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. H. Rosborough in Picton.

While the minister is on holidays, there will be no services for the month of July in the Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klaver held a surprise party for them on their 25th Wedding Anniversary on July 1st at Bethel Hall.

The Presbyterians hope they have better weather for their "Fun Fair" on August 12th than the first days of the Lions Club Jamboree. Those are the times when a Community Centre would be put to good use, and events would not get rained out.

A meeting of the "Fun Fair" committee will be held on Monday evening at the church, so further plans can be made to make the day a success. There will be something for everyone - fish pond, games, bake table, white elephant table, hand crafts, auction sale, hamburgers, hot dogs, and cold drinks and other attractions. Don't forget this date: August 12th. Bring the whole family.

Constable William Luck, with the Deseronto Police force a year this August, will leave July 8th to accept a position on the Napanee force.

ROBLIN LAKE CAMP

The Salvation Army, Roblin Lake Camp, in Ameliasburgh will again be open through the summer. Included in the summer's schedule will be a Music Camp as well as Cub and Scout, Brownie and Guide Group Camping.

In August a "Fresh Air Camp" will be operated to give the opportunity to underprivileged children in the "Mid-Ontario" Division of the Salvation Army to attend summer camp.

From the Napanee area approximately twenty children will be attending this camp.

For more information, contact Envoys Feltham, 354-4735.

Quinte Old Timers

In conjunction with the Lions fund-raising efforts, the Quinte Old Timers conducted their own special draw, also to raise money for the medical centre. Winners were: Mrs. Clarence Whiteman, Belleville (first prize - quilt made by members), Mr. Norman Armistage, Deseronto (2nd prize - hand-braided rug), Mrs. K. McDonald, Napanee (3rd prize - $5 voucher).

Read

P. Enright, RR 1 Shannonsville

For the children of Read it is a home-and-school meeting this weekend; that is to say, with school out now, children meet at home, not at school.

A Read girl makes a decision this weekend which will change her single life to married living. Congratulations to Patricia Durkin and Tom Dowling and best wishes for a long and happy married life.

Many thanks goes out to all those people who sent cards, get well wishes and letters to a Readite who has been nursing a bent and broken ankle. Yours truly appreciates the love shown.

A misquoted quotation from Athens, Greece: "when the power of love overcomes the love of power, only men will be there!"

Twirlers present program

The Quinte Twirlers, the Deseronto baton group, wound up their season's program with a recital at Deseronto School last Friday evening, June 28th. In February, they won the trophy for the Best Marching Group in the Kingston Winter Carnival. On Friday the group, all under 12, presented a variety program including the following:

Chisholm's March: Dana Beckett, Debbie Fingland, Toni Gartland, Sherry Green, Pam Sully, Marlene Thompson and Angela Vick. Duet routine, "Good Morning Starshine": Kelly Detlor and Kim Vanalstine. Duet Routine: "Bye Bye Love": Kelly Dickinson and Karen Morris. Solo, "Sorry for the Asking": Sherry Green.

Senior Team Routine: Kathy Johnson, Janet Maracle, Jo-Ann Morris and Gale Reid.

Junior Team Routine: Carolyn Claus, Kelly Detlor, Kelly Dickinson, Cindy English, Reta Lynn Foster, Lynne

Lapointe, Karen Morris, Janet Thomas, Kim Vanalstine, Sherry Woodcock, and a Closing Cross Formation by all concerned.

This group has been under the direction of Miss Gale Reid, R.R. 5, Deseronto. Assisting Gale have been a group of mothers including Mrs. Peter Dickinson, Mrs. Peter Morris, Mrs. Leonard Foster, Mrs. H. Thompson, Mrs. C. Reid, and Mrs. John Beckett. They are looking forward to one more event - a march in Nanpew during Hoopla Days.

It is hoped to continue this program in the fall in Deseronto. If you have a daughter presently enrolled in the Twirlers, or if you would like your daughter to join, please contact Mrs. Dickinson at 354-3121 or 396-3120. If sufficient numbers are interested a Tap or Ballet class would be added to the baton classes this fall.

Ratepayers

A meeting of the Deseronto Ratepayers Association was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday June 28th at 8 p.m. A total of 30 people attended.

Road conditions, also sewer hook-up problems and costs were discussed at length. Mr. Colby was again present and answered many questions on both subjects.

One new subject was discussed - that of the desirability of having the Town Clock put into working order. It is hoped that steps being taken by the Association will result in a time-telling clock in the near future.

Next meeting will be held Wednesday, July 12th.

KENDAL EAGLES GET WINGS CLIPPED

On Sunday a large crowd watched as two Juvenile pitchers held the Kendal Eagles to only 6 hits. Gord Kimmett started on the mound for the Athletics, and pitched 3 2/3 innings. Gord gave up only 3 hits, 3 walks, and allowed no runs to cross the plate. George Hill came in in the 4th to relieve Gord and gave up only 3 hits also. George walked 3 batters, and 2 runs crossed the plate in the top of the 9th. These are not charged to the pitcher as both runs are the result of a throwing error from 3rd base. Hill is the winning pitcher.

Lee Paradise again had the big bat for Deseronto as he had 2 singles and a home run. This is the 3rd home run for Lee this year. Other big bats for Deseronto were Ottis Fox with a single and a double, Gary Evans with 2 singles (he also stole 3 bases for the day - great work Gary). George Hill had a double also, as did Denny Thompson. Other singles went to Dave Gavel, Jr. Brant, and Al Garrison. Geo Yeo, the Kendal catcher, was knocked cold by a foul tip off Dave Perry's bat in the 6th and had to be replaced. Kendal threw 4 pitchers at Deseronto but could not halt the bats of Deseronto's club. A beautiful double play by Dave Perry saved Deseronto 2 runs in the 8th as Dave grabbed a line drive, and then caught the runs off base to end a rally by Kendal.

TV tower reaches skyward

It's going up -- and up -- and up, thanks to the cool skill of engineers and "squirrels" of Skyhook Construction Company of Brampton, Ontario. Expected to be completed in two weeks, the sectional TV receiving tower perched atop Mocking Bird Hill at Green Point near the Skyway Bridge will be 575 feet tall. Construction is proceeding at the same time on the relaying station (building at the rear). Pieces of electronic equipment are still expected from England and it will likely be the end of the summer before all work is completed. About twenty-four men are presently employed on the site, half of them from this area.

Hardware business sold

After twenty years in the business, Thomas Jackson has sold his store, Jackson's Hardware, on Deseronto's Main Street. At the moment, his plans for the future are indefinite.

Allan Blayne, a resident of this area for twelve years, will take over as owner and manager of Jackson's Hardware, Deseronto on Thursday, July 20th. Mr. Blayne, who has for years had the ambition of running his own business was previously employed at Ideal Venters, Deseronto as a product design draftsman.

Although Allan was born and grew up in Toronto, he has family ties here. His grandfather, Earl Dettlor, who is still alive, worked in Rathbun Company's iron foundry many years ago. His mother was born here.

As a franchised dealer of Crest Hardware, Allan will be able to offer goods at city prices, and says, "We plan to carry a line of hardware that will appeal to area residents, especially farmers and yachtsmen." Eventually, Allan plans to offer a full line of heavy appliances, as well as some furniture.

In addition to over 80 Crest Franchise stores in operation all over Ontario, it is also associated with Stedmans, Marshall Wells, MacLeods and Gables, for a combined total of almost 1,000 franchise stores across Canada.

Allan plans to hold a grand opening in the near future.

A coroner's jury including two Indians was chosen yesterday at the opening of the Fred Quilt Inquest.

No threat to sand dunes

The next step toward a solution to the sand hauling controversy will be a meeting in the near future between officials of the Ministry of Natural Resources and Lake Ontario Cement. This was announced by Natural Resources Minister Leo Bernier last Wednesday in reply to questions following a formal statement by himself and release of a special report on the sand dunes area compiled by Dr. Walter Tovell.

The report, which was commissioned on April 14, has been awaited with deep concern by all parties involved, and its unveiling came at a special press conference, well attended by representatives of all news media, at Queen's Park Wednesday morning.

Present at the meeting besides the minister were the author of the report, Dr. Tovell, and two department members, Russ Tilt of the parks branch and Dr. Don Hewitt of the geological branch.

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES

Also attending the conference were James A. Taylor, MPP for Prince-Edward-Lennox and two representatives of Lake Ontario Cement, Bruce Price, vice-president, and John Clarke, plant manager.

Mr. Bernier said, "As you know, some members of the public have expressed a concern that the extraction of sand from the Baymouth bar that separates Lake Ontario from West Lake, could result in ecological damage to this part of the province."

"Concern has also been expressed that continued extraction of sand from this area, comprising 16.2 acres of land, could substantially reduce the public's enjoyment of the Sandbanks."

"As you will read in the report, Dr. Tovell has rejected both of these concerns, and has projected a life-time of from two to three years for the extraction of the existing sand deposits presently used by the Lake Ontario Cement Company."

"Dr. Tovell has also recommended that the land now under lease to the company be returned to the province for inclusion in the Sandbanks Provincial Park at the end of three-year period to increase the size of the park from 1,802 acres to slightly more than 1,818 acres."

Where do we go from here?

THE ENVIRONMENT PRICE OF CONQUEST IS HIGH STOCKHOLM, Sweden -

The most significant thing which happened at the UN environment conference in Stockholm was the realization by many that environmental concern is a way of life: it calls for a revolution in men's thinking. The second significant thing was the realization by many that there is not much time for man to make the decisions which will avert global catastrophe. The third significant thing which occurred was that the UN as a political body started the machinery moving for making decisions, and also started the machinery for implementing these decisions.

Men must learn to view current events and history both as a continuing struggle of mankind to understand the environment and his own relationship within it, and as a continuing struggle of mankind towards a realization of human rights and human responsibilities. Man is not the pinnacle of life. He is an integral part of all life.

Viewed in this light, all pollution, all power struggles and all armed conflict are total failure. There can be no victor. The fact of pollution and environmental waste of all forms stands clearly that man has not sought to live in solidarity with his environment. He has struggled, instead, for the conquest of nature, and the price is high. The existence of power struggles, and the fact of armed conflict of any sort states that men have abdicated their struggle towards human rights and human responsibility, and have resorted instead to the conquest of man over man.

Looks Into History

It is possible to look into history and explain how we have arrived at today via conquest. It is possible to argue that in many cases it could not really have been different. It is even possible to show that much of what may be termed progress and development resulted from struggle for conquest. But it is also imperative to understand that the qualities which have propelled us to the present are no longer acceptable. They will carry us onward toward complete breakdown of our global society. The ethic of conquest and its first cousin, the ethic of continual growth, are the heralds of catastrophe. We must learn to live in equilibrium with the rest of the earth.

It is the task of a whole generation. In the words of Maurice Strang, "man is unlikely to succeed in managing relations with nature unless he learns to manage better the relations between man and man. Here lies our greatest challenge."

It has been said that scientists measure ecosystems in generations, not years. Ecologically speaking it is this present generation of man which must make the decisions which will enable our own children to work towards world peace and equilibrium. If we don't, our children will probably not have a chance.

POSTAL CODE POSTAL

- what is it?

The Postal CODE, composed of six characters, is a permanently part of your postal address. In urban areas, it contains enough information to determine the destination of a letter right down to one side of a city street between intersections, and sometimes even further.

The CODE is composed of both letters and numbers, in the form of ANA NAN, where "A" represents a letter of the alphabet, and "N" a number. There is a space separating the first three characters, the Area Code, from the last three.

In urban areas, the Area Code describes an area roughly the size of 25 letter carrier routes. The last three characters denote a very small and easily-defined section within the area described by the Area Code. These characters can specify one side of a city block, an apartment building, an office building or a large firm or organization which does considerable business with the Post Office. They can also denote a service from a post office or postal station - rural route, general delivery.

In rural areas, the postal CODE indicates a specific post office.

The postal CODE will facilitate the sorting of mail, especially as mechanized sorting machines have become necessary to cope with growing mail volumes.

The CODE is being implemented gradually across the country. For the purposes of the postal CODE, Canada has been divided into 18 areas, each of which will have a directory.

PUBLIC PROMISE

Pinned down by one questioner, Mr. Bernier did pledge publicly that no further area would be leased for sand hauling in the area.

Dr. Tovell's suggestion that the area in question could be quarried beneath the water level to restore the lake area also came under fire.

"It all depends on what you want," said Dr. Tovell -- "water or sand." Dr. Tovell also estimated that the dune formations would restore themselves in 15 to 20 years.

"Would you say the environmentalists are over-worried?" was another question.

Dr. Tovell replied, "Yes. The damage will repair itself."

Riding MPP James Taylor was also concerned about the "regenerative aspects" of the dunes, and also about the lack of research on an alternate site.

"Mr. Bernier's answer, along with that of Dr. Tovell's, was that it is basically up to the company to arrange for its own supply of sand, especially once the leased area is quarried out to the full extent permitted by the present lease.

CANNOT BE SAVED

Still pressed about saving the sand dunes, Dr. Tovell stressed that sand dunes, as such, are an "unstable land form." "You can preserve an area to observe the formation of dunes, but you cannot preserve bald-headed dunes," he replied, as he had already noted in his report.

Dr. Tovell admitted that the human factor in the problem was not covered by the report at all. His study was simply on the effect of hauling sand on the dunes themselves.

A new way to really get your mail moving: Your local Postal Code.

By now, you've probably received your new Postal Code. And you may have seen or heard ads telling people in big cities how accurate and complicated their codes are.

Well, your local code is not as complicated. Obviously, since fewer people live in your area, we don't need as many codes. In fact, all we need is one code to represent all the people in your town and on your rural route.

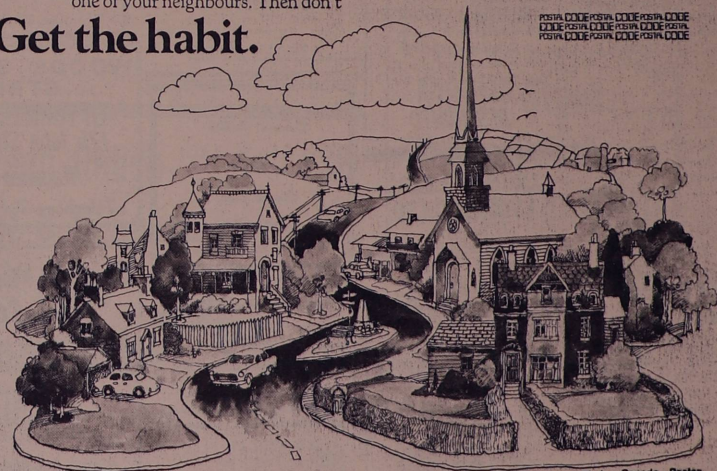

So, if you forget your code, just ask one of your neighbours. Then don't forget, send it to your friends.

If they live in big cities, tell them how complicated their life is.

And if you haven't received your Code by July 31st, please call your local Post Office. We will mail it to you immediately. It is possible however, that you are not in the Eastern Ontario Postal District, in which case your area may not have been coded yet. For information in Ottawa call 996-6441.

FISH AND WILDLIFE BRANCH - HANS VON ROSEN

June 24th was the opening of the Bass season in divisions 7, 8 and 9, which includes the overwhelming portions of the Tweed District. This means that no closed seasons remain. Angler success has been good to fair in most waters, with occasional excellent catches. Since fish are known to be more active immediately following a rainfall some good catches are being expected within the coming week.

By now all summer projects are well under way. Limnological lake investigations are being carried out to determine the success or failure of previous water level and fisheries management activities. Duck brood counts and grouse brood counts are made to determine reproductive success of game birds. Deer yard surveys, including population studies and browse evaluations, have been completed and await evaluation. Enforcement patrols are carried out to ensure that illegal overharvesting is kept to a minimum.

In view of the warm weather aquatic vegetation is growing rapidly, resulting in requests for advice on the methods to control this nuisance, three avenues of approach are open to riparian owners.

(1) Cover the lake bottom where a boat channel is to be maintained with black plastic. This will cut off sunlight, and inhibit all growth of aquatic plants. This approach is effective, inexpensive, does not involve an excessive amount of personal labour, and is non polluting.

(2) Mechanical control by cutting with a scythe or sickle or by chain and cable drag.

This should be followed by removal of all cut vegetation onto the shore, where it can be used as excellent compost or mulch material.

This method involves some elbow grease, and may cause a temporary roiling of the water.

(3) Chemical control is possible when applied for and permitted in writing by the Water Quality Branch of the Ministry of the Environment. Applications are subject to refusal where environmental damage or danger to fish, wildlife and humans are suspected.

the base figure equals $7,500. A family of six children would qualify for the full payment for each child until their income exceeds $7,500 per year.

As income rises above that figure, thirty three cents is deducted from each cheque for each one hundred dollars that income exceeds the maximum of $7,500. It can already be seen that such a program would be more expensive to administer, it would be more complicated both for the government and the recipient to calculate, and could in fact become an administrative nightmare.

To begin with, there are tens of thousands of families in the base income bracket whose incomes cannot be predicted that closely for a year in advance. Incomes today fluctuate more than they have in the past, and a family that might qualify at the beginning of a year could very well fall into another category a few months later.

Considering the expense of raising children today, I could not quarrel with increases in family allowances, but there is certainly a better way to accomplish that than to complicate it beyond comprehension.

Quinte Cruise Is Available At Trenton

A Bowmanville tour boat operator and his wife, recognizing the tourist potential of the Trent Waterways system and adjacent Quinte waters, have decided to implement a regular and charter scenic cruise service from here.

Ron and Florence Strong operated a similar service from Port Perry and Lindsay in recent summers.

Their new all steel hull cruise boat the Miss Scougog accommodates 40 passengers comfortably, and 60 well within the safety regulations. It is 50 feet in length, 10 feet six inches across the beam and a powerful diesel engine provides the motivation. It is operated under a government licence with an experienced captain at the helm.

The boat presently is berthed at the government dock south of the Trenton Legion Hall where all regular service trips will start from. The service began on July 1.

Cruise schedules set up so far include all daylight trips from Trenton to Campbellford on Thursdays and Saturdays and Trenton to Picton on Fridays and Sundays. There will be moonlight cruises from Trenton to Belleville on Fridays and Sundays commencing at sundown and continuing to midnight. Charters for groups at special rates are being encouraged.

The cruise service already available will become official Wednesday, July 12 with a day-long tour of Quinte waters with representatives of the area news media aboard.

Report from Parliament

Parliament has recessed for the summer, cutting short the last effort on the part of the government to push the foreign takeovers bill and the family income security bill through the house. Neither of these two bills would solve any problems, and in fact, both would probably make things worse than they are now.

The foreign takeovers bill would give the federal cabinet the authority to approve the takeover of established Canadian business and industrial firms worth more than $250,000 by foreign interests. There are two good reasons why such a policy would not work in the best interests of the Canadian economy or Canadian investors.

First of all, it would be a serious mistake to give any politician or bureaucrat the authority to deal directly with foreign investors, and to make decisions as to whether it would be in the national interest to allow anyone to purchase a Canadian firm. It would open the door to all kinds of temptations, not the least of which would be the chance for someone to accept graft or gratuities in exchange for favourable treatment. This already happens in other countries, notably Mexico, and there is no reason to believe that it could not happen here.

Secondly, the person making such decisions would have to be expert in any number of areas, such as international finance, market science, a qualified analyst of international and domestic economic matters, and a host of other special fields. There just aren't any bureaucrats here or anywhere else in my view who would have all those qualifications.

It would appear to me, after studying this bill, that this is just one more way for the government to extend its control over the private sector, and there is already too much such interference in our private enterprise. And too, it would be a good way for the government, any government, to reward the party faithfuls.

With regard to the family income security bill, if you take the government's assessment of it at face value it sounds like a great improvement over the existing baby bonus scheme. However, a closer look at the bill would indicate that it would create massive confusion, and would not serve the needs of those people who should benefit from an income security program.

The new scheme would be based on a means test, and the magic figure is an annual income of $4,500 or less. As an example, a person with an income of $4,500 per year, and one child 11 years old or younger, would receive $15 per month. From age 12 to 18 years, the monthly payment would increase to $20 per month.

Where there is more than one child, eligibility is determined by multiplying the number of children by $500, and adding that sum to the $4,500 figure. Thus, if there are six children, six times $500 would come to $3,000, and added to

Photo by James Fairbairn taken about 1900 shows little Cuspad Sager perched on his mount while father Huron Sager looks on. Fairbairn, a professional photographer had a studio for several years on Main St., Deseronto, just west of St. George St., and many of his shots of the town were reproduced on post cards. New Canadian TV Network To Include Bancroft Station

The Canadian Radio-Television Commission opened the door Friday for a possible third national television network and slammed back at U.S. TV in Canada with the announcement of a new English television network for southern Ontario.

Global Communications Ltd., of Toronto was given permission by the federal regulatory agency to set up the third network with transmitters at Uxbridge, Paris, Windsor, Sarnia, Bancroft and Ottawa.

The new network will beam into Toronto and Burlington on Channel 22 from the Uxbridge transmitter, catch the Hamilton-London-Kitchener area on Channel 6 from the Paris transmitter and reach the Belleville-Kingston region on Channel 2 from Bancroft. The Windsor and Sarnia transmitters will send signals into the United States as well as Canadian cities.

The new southern Ontario network, which will have full-color production facilities in its studios at Ottawa and Toronto, is aimed at countering the growth of U.S. TV which has recently garnered an increasingly large share of the Ontario market.

About $15 million worth of Canadian advertising money is spent in Buffalo each year for ads aimed at Canadian audiences.

The new network was greeted with mixed feelings by Canada's established TV networks. CTV's Stuart Griffiths called the move a "serious blow" and said it would cut into his company's advertising revenues from CJOH, broadcasting from Ottawa and Cornwall.

J.P. Gilmore, acting president of the publicly-financed CBC, said, on the other hand, area will attract viewers away that the move "would not affect us as far as I can determine."

Hydro route is opposed

Ontario Hydro's proposed 500-kv transmission line may have received short circuit -- this time in Sidney Township.

Sidney residents last week requested that Hydro move its 610 foot corridor about 1000 feet north of the proposed route to follow a road allowance along the top of the fourth concession.

They would also like to see the Trent River crossing made near Highway 401 south of the built-up areas of Batavia and Frankford. Such a diversion could cost Hydro an additional $1 million.

More than 30 lot owners met with Hydro officials at Sidney town hall to make recommendations prior to the release of a revised route Aug. 1.

The aftermath of the havoc created by the big break-out at Millhaven maximum security pen may be beneficial to society in the long run. One can't blame those nearby residents who were disturbed by having their houses broken into, cupboards looted, and eggs frightened, for reacting negatively by saying, "make prison security even tighter, so that it won't happen again." And yet it is interesting to observe, that in one case, reported in the Nanapanee Beaver, when a housewife was confronted with an escapee, she offered him a meal, and an opportunity to wash and shave. Surely, what all of these "convicts" need, is someone to reach out a hand to them.

Herein lies the basis of the whole argument - tighter security vs. rehabilitation.

At the present time, in Britain, proposed legal changes aim at making things tougher for the criminal in the courtroom, which attitude goes hand in hand with making things tougher for him once he is in prison.

Some lawyers and criminologists fear that the changes may sweep away safeguards for the individual which they say have made British justice a model for the world.

Other observers support the plans to toughen the rules of evidence. They say formalities have turned criminal trials into courtroom farces, endangering truth in pursuit of legal loopholes.

Proposed changes include denial of an accused's right to silence, modification of regulations on hearsay evidence, and abolition of the standard police caution of witnesses.

Experts say the reforms would move Britain closer to the continental system, based on the Napoleonic code.

The idea that life should be made tougher for big-time criminals is in line with the thinking of Britain's top policeman, Robert Mark. In a lecture, he charged that British courts are too soft, giving big-time operators too much leeway.

Support for the continental-style "inquisitorial" system suggested by Mark came from Lord Shawcross, a top British legal authority who was attorney-general in a former Labor government.

He said that in Britain the judge was more like an umpire. "But we can no longer afford to treat crime as a game," he said. "Nor can we allow the rules to be weighted at all points in favour of the criminal."

On the other side of the coin, there are those who believe firmly that rehabilitation is the answer. Reach out to these people, help them to understand themselves and gain self-confidence that they have something to contribute in a positive way - then they will no longer need to satisfy their egos in a selfish way while hurting others.

It is heartening to learn that Syl Apps, Ontario Minister of Correctional Services, announced last week that there will be a reorganization of his department to place a greater emphasis on total rehabilitation of inmates. This will include the separation of juvenile and adult retraining programs, plus the setting up of regional administration centres in western, central, eastern and northern Ontario.

Four centres for adults will be completed by March, 1973, and the juvenile system will be split into a western and eastern region. The province also intends to intensify community rehabilitation programs.

According to Mr. Apps, Kingston is definitely in the running for one such centre, although "not necessarily" for both adults and juveniles.

He said recently, while being aware of his responsibility to protect society from crime and delinquency, "we are also aware that the best protection is the provision of rehabilitation programs which prevent those in our care from continuing the types of antisocial behavior which brought them to the attention of the courts."

One highlight of the reorganization is the abolition of separate administrative systems for jails and correctional centres for adult male and female prisoners. Another is the setting up of Canada's first co-educational training school for young offenders, to be located at Thunder Bay.

The school will be completed in two to three years and accommodate 120 juveniles, 90 of them boys and 30 girls between the ages of 8 and 18. The children will share classrooms, dining rooms and recreational facilities, but will have separate

If the experiment is successful, plans call for the establishment of other co-ed schools.

Decentralization of the administration of jails and correctional centres will allow an offender to remain within his home area and let the institution cater to local needs. Mr. Apps said the difference between a jail and a correctional centre is disappearing because of expanded programs within jails, the establishment of regional detention centres and the temporary leave program.

The leave program, introduced in August of 1969, allows selected individuals to be absent from the centre during the day or for two or three days for reasons of employment, education, or personal family situations.

Since the program started, figures indicate there have been 169 cases where the conditions of the leave were broken out of 9,005 absences granted.

Concerned the public may feel the correctional system is too soft on offenders, Mr. Apps said persons in the provincial system are not the same "hardened criminals" found in the federal system. He noted persons in the provincial centres have received sentences of less than two years.

(excerpts in quotation marks from The Whig-Standard)

DUTCH JAIL POPULATION DECLINES IN EXPERIMENT

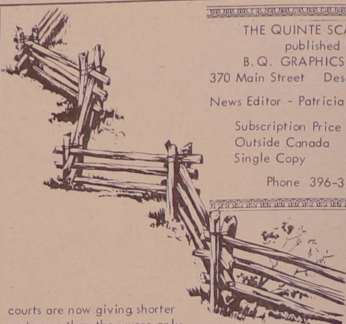

In the past five years the Netherlands has achieved one of the dearest aims of European prison administrators: It has reduced its prison population.

Although the Dutch have shared in the general increase of crime which has affected all of Western Europe, the number held in prison fell by almost a quarter between 1964 and 1970.

The number in prison is now only 2,700 which, compared with the Dutch population of almost 13,000,000, gives a rate of 21 prisoners per 100,000.

The rate for England and Wales is over 80 prisoners per 100,000 while Austria has more than 100 prisoners per 100,000. Even a country like Sweden, which prides itself on advanced penal policies, averages over 60 prisoners per 100,000. Canada averages 100 prisoners per 100,000.

As the remarkable news of the Dutch experience has spread, prison officials from other countries have flocked to the Ministry of Justice here to study the secret of their success. Yet the main reason for the fall is very simple. It is that Dutch courts are now giving shorter sentences than they were only a few years ago. For the prisons this has meant that the number actually in prison at any one time has fallen.

Today, sentences of over 10 years are rare and over two-thirds of the prisoners are serving sentences of less than 12 months. But although this cause may be clear enough even the Dutch are in some difficulty in trying to explain why the courts' sentencing should have changed so markedly.

Amid a welter of theories, the most likely is that many judges believe long sentences are ineffective and feel that there is nothing to be lost by trying shorter ones. As one official from the Ministry of Justice said, "we mistrust the long sentence. We just don't believe that the prisoner becomes any more social in a long stay in prison. So we are acting because of a pessimistic view of long sentences rather than claiming that we have found a panacea."

How then has the fall in numbers helped the prisons? Certainly it cannot be said that the Dutch have taken the opportunity to replace their old prisoners—which is so often considered the beginning and end of any policy for penal reform—and old 19th century prisons, including the maximum security prison at Breda, still stand.

But what the Dutch prison system can now offer is space and the opportunity for treatment in small groups. This is seen at the corridor open training camp for young prisoners, near the small town of Zeeland, and named after the "corridor to freedom" route of the Allied forces in the Second World War. Here the young men are treated in groups of 10.

Perhaps the most useful achievement of the Dutch is to challenge the fashionable theory that short prison sentences are by definition useless.

Keep two pairs of plus fours.

K2P OP4... Keep two pairs of plus fours. Funny sentence eh? But so is "i before e...", or "the quick brown fox..."

We know that your new Postal Code isn't easy to remember, so we're suggesting that you make up sentences, or rhymes, or some other funny way to remember it.

And we'd like to add that it isn't that easy. So here's a tip.

The numerals are tough. For example, won, too, for and ate are usable. The rest are almost impossible.

Try it yourself. Or, better still, try it at your next party and see who comes up with the best sentence, or rhyme, or something.

Then, after you've awarded the booby prize, remind them to remind their friends.

B four it's two I eight.

Get the habit.

Quinte Old Timers

The Quinte Old Timers motored to Beaver Lake for a picnic at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Walker on July 19th. After the dinner Mrs. Joseph Reynolds spoke words of thanks to the host and hostess for their kindness in allowing the club to meet there and also thanked those who provided cars. Mrs. Mabel Moon asked Mrs. Hawley to come forward and she presented her with a gift in recognition of the kindnesses Mrs. Hawley had bestowed to the club. The question of August activity was brought up and Mrs. Dorothea Haines suggested a trip through the Thousand Islands etc. This was approved unanimously and later plans will be made. A neighbour from one of the cottages took members for a boat ride around the lake. Some of the ladies couldn't resist paddling in the water at the lake shore. At least they got their feet wet. Some enjoyed card games while others preferred to visit. Those who took cameras were busy taking pictures. All agreed that it was a delightful day, and returned to their homes a bit tired, but pleased that they

time to reflect

Dear Friend -

I decided to take a break from writing and get back to my painting as a friend in Florida wrote that a burglar had broken into her place and stolen a picture of mine (he certainly wasn't an art critic) and she'd like another one. Well, I found my brushes a mess and paints borrowed by someone (probably to paint a bird house). I did like the idea of someday becoming a Grandma Moses. I had decided that at some 80 odd years old, I'd have my "one man show" grand and great grandchildren about me. Wearing purple (with perhaps my hair done a "garish" red and holding a long cig holder), I figured that with my get-up and age, plus the grandchildren, my pictures just might sell. Anyhow, Grandma Moses got a late start, so I still have time to get at it.

We have a couple of new additions to the family - two barn cats. They cleaned out the barn so well, that some long-tailed unwelcome friends came to the house. So I let the cats in to catch them. (The first time I ever saw a deer mouse). My visiting friend stood on a chair till good old cinderella caught the mouse. I then forgave the cat for catching the baby woodpecker who fell out of his nest earlier. ("Mr. Woodpecker" did find his mate).

Second son had a huge row that sat on his shoulder and was tame. Of course, you know what the bird did, much to third son's glee, who danced about laughing and saying "Oh yes, crows make nice pets, hal hal hal" and dad said "that's not a crow, it's a cow bird". (One shirt in the wash). I read up on him and crows are supposed to be the smartest birds. The book stated "The bird sees the white man come and the Indian withdraw, but it withdraws not. It sees a race pass away, but it remains to remind us of aboriginal nature." The book was first printed in 1911. So I conclude that the crow made some people think. The Indian also remains here.

The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise anel jacket-dress trimmed with matching lace, white accessories, and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

After the dinner a reception was held in Read Parish Hall with music provided by the Rilvermen.

Indian women confer

The National Indian Women's Conference, which took place on the 22 to the 24 of March, was held in the Bessborough Hotel in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. Metis and Status Indian women representatives from all ten provinces and the Northwest Territories were present for discussions and an exchange of ideas and problems.

The first day of the conference was devoted to a panel discussion, the primary topic being the status of Indian women marrying White men. The main speaker was Janet Corbierre Laval who had travelled to Saskatoon to explain her position and try to get some backing from the Women's Organization. Many delegates acted strongly against her position which remained the main topic of discussion for the following two days of the meeting. Other speakers present were: Mary Anne Lavallee of Saskatchewan, Agnus Bull of Alberta and Marie Marule from Ottawa.

On the second day the conference broke off into splinter groups or committees to discuss the problems in, Health and Welfare, Education, and Cultural activities and education.

As of yet there is still no National Women's Association because a number of provinces were not in favour of forming a National Body because some of them were not prepared for such an undertaking. The dispute over the Laval case made it impossible to fully discuss the forming of a National Body.

QUOTES FROM KIDS

"Manhattan Island was bought from the Indians for $24 and I do not suppose you could buy it now for $500."

"The French Revolution was caused by overcharging taxes."

"Henry VIII by his own efforts increased the population of England by 40,000."

The famed Chief Dan George of the Burrard Reserve in North Vancouver, B.C. took part recently in the first Stanley Park Be-In which drew a crowd of 6,000 people. In addition to singing his rendition of "My Blue Heaven" for which he is well-known on the Lower Mainland, he hand his daughter Marie sang "Sunset", a song which the chief set to music about a year ago. It is based on a short prayer his father used to say at sunset after a day of salmon-smoking on Indian River. (Photo: E. A. Davidson)

MOHAWKS STUDY LEASE

Chief Earl Hill of Tyendinaga Reserve reports that a re-defining of the "Shannonville Lease" situation is the hoped for result of the present investigations into a lease drawn up 140 years ago for over 200 acres of land in and around Shannonville. After a meeting last week with officials of the Department of Indian Affairs Chief Hill hoped that some better arrangements could be made by the end of the year.

The present lease was originally prepared to last for 999 years and gave a Montreal mill operator the use of the land for that length of time on the provision that the Mohawks would receive a rental payment of 30 barrels of merchantable flour annually. In May of this year when a portion of the land with a canning factory was purchased by Virgo Foods, Chief Hill felt the Mohawks should do something concrete about regaining control of the land, sub-leased and subdivided since the original agreement. At that time Chief Hill reported that the payment was of flour "not fit for human consumption" and refused to accept the payment.

The Mohawks of the Bay of Quinte Band are not unique in taking this position as several such leases, drawn up prior to the mid-nineteenth century, are being investigated right across the country. Local representatives are therefore working closely with the Association of Iroquois and Allied Indians on this and other matters.

Government officials meanwhile are conducting exhaustive searches into archives and land deeds dating back many years before confederation. Last Thursday's meeting brought the Mohawk government representative up to date on the progress made since talks regarding the "Shannonville Lease" were started in May. — Napanee Beaver

Homers spark Deseronto

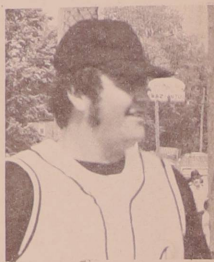

Home runs were the big factor in Deseronto's win over Bowmanville on Sunday, on the losers diamond, as Deseronto downed Bowmanville by 10 - 5. Lee Paridise started the Deseronto rally in the third inning, after being down 1 - 0. Denny Tompkins doubled to lead off the third; then Paridise blasted a 375 homer over the left field fence to put Deseronto ahead by 2 - 1. Dave Breault, a Midget player, brought up to play because of a lack of intermediate players, singled Dave Gavel's sacrifice fly, put a runner in scoring position, Barberstock flew out, to advance the runner again. Then Blaine Loft drove another 375' homer to put Deseronto into a commanding 4 - 1 lead.

Deseronto scored 2 more in the 4th, on singles by Alkenbrack, Tompkins and Paridise. Deseronto scored another run in the 5th, as Bill Barberstock blasted a deep ball straight over centerfield fence, a good 400 to 420'. Deseronto scored its other two runs in the 9th, as Loft walked, Jr. Brant sacrificed, Gord Kimmett singled, then Denny Tompkins drove a deep double into center field, to score Loft, Kimmett.

Bill Barberstock pitched the full game and gave up only 6 hits, struck-out 11 batters and walked 4. This is Bill's 3rd win for Deseronto in six starts. Deseronto batters combined for a total of 16 hits, of which 3 were home runs. Lee Paridise is fast approaching the full game with the phase one report on the Lake Ontario region released at the Lake Ontario Regional Development Council convention in Peterborough on June 1.

Mr. McKeough asked for briefs from citizens, community leaders and planners to help "shape the region's future."
